Pasteurella haemolytica is the leading cause of bovine pneumonia and shipping fever. That makes it the most deadly, and costly, of all cattle respiratory diseases. In total, P.haemolytica and other respiratory diseases cost U.S. cattlemen more than $500 million a year.

But until now, pasteurella protection was pretty inconsistent. And pretty inconvenient. That's why you'll appreciate new One Shot. It's the onedose, inactivated pasteurella vaccine.

One Shot provides optimum efficacy because it contains, among others, a capsular antigen as well as a leukotoxoid. The antibody against leukotoxoid neutralizes leukotoxin that functionally impairs or destroys macrophages and neutrophils.

One Shot is licensed as a Bacterin-Toxoid by the USDA and is safe for use in cattle of all ages. And it can be used intramuscularly or subcutaneously.

Although only a single dosed One Shot is necessary to confer acting immunity in healthy cattle, a boost dose is recommended whenew subsequent stress or exposure is like Effectiveness and safety again costly pasteurella. And time-savis convenience. Now your clients a get it all in one shot.

WORLD ASSOCIATION FOR BUIATRICS PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

Professor J. Espinasse

This year the XVII World Buiatrics Congress is being organized by the American Association of Bovine Practitioners at Saint Paul, Minnesota USA (August 31st — September 4th, 1992). It is to be combined with the XXV American Association of Bovine Practitioner's Conference.

The subject themes proposed by the Organizing Committee of the XVII World Buiatrics Congress include both traditional topics, with certain innovations, and major current concerns. More than 200 draft contributions have been received but slightly less than 80 have been accepted by the Program Selection Committee for oral presentations. Nearly all of the other contributors have been invited to present their materials as posters.

Practitioners will also be able to discover the latest developments in diagnosis, therapeutics and prophylaxis at the commercial exhibition in which 75 companies have agreed to take part.

In accordance with the regulations, a simultaneous translation into the four official languages (English, French, German, Spanish) will be provided during two sessions beginning Tuesday morning September 1 and ending at noon Friday. September 4.

All the necessary conditions seem therefore to be assembled for this XVII World Buiatrics Congress to constitute another outstanding event in the permanent training of bovine veterinary specialists. You are invited to come in large numbers to a country which is both a forerunner and example in so many fields in this profession.
