

AABP Foundation-Zoetis Scholarship Awards and Amstutz Scholarship Auction

Friday, September 14, 2018
Phoenix, Arizona

The AABP Foundation and Zoetis partnered to award 12 scholarships to veterinary students who will graduate in 2019. The AABP Foundation-Zoetis Veterinary Student Scholarship program was established to recruit outstanding students into careers in bovine veterinary medicine. In addition to a $5,000 scholarship, each recipient was invited to attend the 51st AABP Annual Conference in Phoenix, Arizona, September 13-15, 2018 and was provided a stipend for travel and housing.

Recipients were honored at a dinner Friday, September 14. The sources of the funds for these scholarships were Zoetis and individual AABP members who participated by designating the Veterinary Student Scholarship when provided the opportunity to contribute to the recruitment of future colleagues.

The recipients of the 2018 AABP Foundation-Zoetis Veterinary Student Scholarships and their respective schools are:

Nate Baribault	North Carolina State
Brandon Colby	Ohio State University
Caelah Doerr	Michigan State
Jessica Gaska	University of Wisconsin
Rebecca Gibbs	Colorado State University
Michelle Morelli	Texas A & M University
Danielle Mzyk	North Carolina State
Mark Spare	Kansas State University
Robert Stenger	Mississippi State University
Emily Vermillion	University of Georgia
Bryan Welly	University of California-Davis
Sydney Westbrook	University of California-Davis

The AABP Foundation wishes to offer congratulations and best wishes to this group of deserving students.
